Justin,

That makes sense. Alex has been working diligently to scope out and map pretty much every issue and action that OAR has going on, in order that (1) we don't let something slip through the cracks and (2)

Fair enough. (I don't recall ever discussing this with her so I'm not sure it was ever on her radar - it is surely on Apple's, though, I'd expect.)

Maybe you and I should take stock of where we are on Monday.

Maybe Susan has forgotten about it?

I admit that's not much of a plan, though, so we'll think of something.

I will be getting briefed by ARLO Monday in advance of Tuesday's briefing for OAR - but I think both of those are on TX only.

Justin, I understand that OGC may just now be getting the chance to turn their attention to these issues. Anne asked that I forward the summaries along to you in an effort to try to encourage OGC's review along.

Here's an updated status report....

Attached please find a summary of the key adverse comments received on Region 4's proposal to withdraw the SSM SIP Call for North Carolina. (Also attached again is the summary of the comments on Region 6's proposal for TX.) The summary includes a list of parties that provided comments on the proposal. Note, that the summary does not include OGC's characterization of the legal risk involved in finalizing this action, due to the involvement and workload prioritization on the MATS final rule for OGC attorneys.

We intend to come to OAR in the next few weeks to discuss the comments on the TX and NC proposals, and provide OGC's legal assessment. We are still planning to have both the TX and NC final actions signed (by the respective RAs) before the end of the year.
